BASEBALL PARK IS CROWDED WITH FANS FOR OPENING GAME

Birmingham Must Go Some Today to Surpass Record for Attendance, Set by Loyal Atlantics

FINE WEATHER HELPS TO BRING OUT CROWD

Grand Stand and Bleachers Overflow as Crackers Line Up Against Johnny Dobbs' Men From New Orleans

With her famous spirit and her wretched style Atlanta pulled out today to the opening of the baseball season and poured into Ponce de Leon a throng that filled stands and bleachers everywhere the field.

Atlanta has had many great opening games in the past, but never before was there such weather, such spirit, such a launching of the Crackers upon their voyage to prominent hope.

It was another splendid example of Atlanta's habit of surpassing herself, another wonderful display of that inextinguishable spirit which never fails to respond when called.

Fans lined up with an eye for these seats took a two hour start and were up on flag street cars and other means for the park, and at half past 2 o'clock and even later the procession moved continuously with ever increasing volume.

PARADE SEES 'EM GOING

At 12 o'clock the Atlanta club came out in their wretched uniforms, headed by the band, drum corps, and after this demonstration it was all off.

Stands filled, offices shut, shops and employers and employees dropped everything and joined the rollicking throng which moved with cheers and shouts to the stadium for the first game of the season.

The fellow who persuaded himself that he was not important, the job must have been as long as a house at a game with the family going to the game.

At the hour this edition goes to press the throng of people, have not been seen in the exact attendance is not known, but if the vast amount of the throng is taken into consideration of the number in the park, then Birmingham is beaten and Atlanta has won the opening game.

BRADSTREET OFFICIAL Declares Prosperity Covers Whole South

J. E. C. Pedder, Southern Superintendent of Great Mercantile Agency, Gives Highly Optimistic View

Probably no man in Atlanta is better qualified to speak on business conditions than J. E. C. Pedder, division superintendent of Bradstreet for the southern states.

To say that Mr. Pedder is enthusiastic over conditions is a very conservative statement. He is a man who has seen a high water mark give off electric current.

At the time the outbreak of the European war paralyzed the cotton trade, southern business faced a very serious situation. He said that he had seen the situation from the inside, and he said that he had seen the situation from the inside, and he said that he had seen the situation from the inside.

MACHINERY MEN THERE.

One of the liveliest sections of the state was that occupied by the delegates attending the annual convention of the Southern Supply and Machinery Association, which adjourned and went to the game in a motorcade.

Mr. J. E. C. Pedder, who is president of the association, was seen in the crowd, and he said that he had seen the situation from the inside, and he said that he had seen the situation from the inside, and he said that he had seen the situation from the inside.

Mexican Women Camp Followers Also Reported Slain by Carranza Troops After Fight Near Huasichito

MACHINE GUN USED IN SLAUGHTER, IS REPORT

Carranza Officer Is Said to Have Slain 120 Prisoners Who Had Surrendered, Others Bayoneted

LOREDO, TEXAS, April 13.—Information from Carranza officers and soldiers in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, indicates that 350 Villa troops who were captured in a battle near Huasichito, thirty miles south of the border, were summarily executed by the Carranza forces.

It was also reported that a number of Carranza women camp followers were executed by the Carranza troops.

It was stated last night on what is considered authentic authority that a Carranza general ordered machine guns turned on a party of surrendering Villa soldiers, resulting in the death of seventy-six men in one body.

Another Carranza officer credited with having killed one hundred and twenty prisoners with a machine gun, while other Carranza commanders were said to have used revolvers freely. The wounded, it was said, were bayoneted on the field.

Carranza officers in Nuevo Laredo say the wholesale executions were ordered in retaliation for alleged similar killings by Villa troops. Carranza forces under General Macho Herrera recently by Villa troops.

American returning from the Huasichito battlefield said they saw bodies of about 1,000 soldiers and simultaneously by the Carranza soldiers opened fire on the Villa troops with machine guns from an armored train.

He claimed that the Carranza forces were twenty-five killed and forty-two wounded. He named the Villa troops with about 1,000 soldiers and simultaneously by the Carranza soldiers opened fire on the Villa troops with machine guns from an armored train.

Ga. Postmaster's Shortage Made Up By Mother-in-Law

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
ATLANTA, Ga., April 14.—A jury in the United States court today found Samuel A. Hall, a former postmaster of Milledgeville, guilty of misappropriation of $2,500 of the government's funds and Judge Speer sentenced him to serve two months in the Richmond county jail.
The money which Hall was due the government was supplied by his mother-in-law and the government lost not a penny, which caused some satirical language by Judge Speer concerning mothers-in-law in general. Hall claimed that while he was postmaster the actual work of the office was done by an assistant and it was his assistant who was short although he himself was the responsible party.

WILL CARRY CALF CASE TO THE HIGHER COURTS Pylant Claims Illegal Sale Was Interrupted and Therefore Not Made

To test the constitutionality of the city ordinance prohibiting the sale of pig carcasses under certain weight, Joe Pylant, a merchant of Buckhead, confected and fined $25 in recorder's court Tuesday for its violation, has engaged attorneys to carry the case to higher courts.

Pylant was arrested for attempting to sell a calf said to be about forty pounds under the minimum weight to sell in Manhattan. He admitted buying and dressing the calf in question, but claimed that the sale was interrupted before completion by Meat Inspector Wacker and was, therefore, no violation. City Attorney Maxson prosecuted the case and held that the agreement and delivery constituted the violation of law.

TO TEST U. S. JUDGES' RIGHTS OF PRACTICE

CINCINNATI, Ohio, April 14.—

courts have the power to suspend sen-

Pherson as a result of the action of Judge Hollister here yesterday, after imposing a six months' prison sentence upon Laura Hodges, a negro of this city, after she had pleaded guilty to a charge of forging a money order.

A report of the suspension of the sentence was made to the department of justice at Washington last night by McPherson, and it is probable that preliminary steps in the matter will be taken within the next week or two.

GERMAN RAIDER MUST PROLONG STAY IN PORT

Three Weeks at Least Needed to Repair Kronprinz Wilhelm's Boiler Tubes

(By Associated Press.)
NEWPORT NEWS, April 14.—The German merchant raider Kronprinz Wilhelm, it was learned today, is in need of boiler tubes which cannot be supplied at this port and must be manufactured elsewhere. To procure and install the tubes, it is said, will require at least three weeks.

Captain Thierfelder, it has been ascertained, made mention of the condition of his boilers in his letter to the Washington authorities asking for time to make temporary repairs and also stated that he could not procure necessary equipment for the purpose here.
Authorization to take the Wilhelm into dry dock has been given by the Washington government, but the ship must be trimmed before she can be moved, and dry dock space must be cleared. For these reasons, it is probable the ship will not dock before Friday.

Three hundred additional tons of coal were allowed the German raider this morning for port purposes. The coal will be used in trimming the ship that her bow may be lowered and stern raised.
Experts report the ship is taking so much water in the stern as to endanger her rudder and propeller. The coal will be taken on late today or early tomorrow.

STORY OF THE BELLEVUE
Details of the sinking of the British steamship Bellevue, one of the Wilhelm's fourteen victims, were related today by members of the crew, revealing that the British ship was held as a prize for sixteen days before she was sent to the bottom. The Bellevue was bound from Liverpool to South American ports with 4,000 tons of coal, 500 cases of whisky and several yoke of oxen when she was captured by the Wilhelm. December 1 last. For days the Bellevue would be tied up to the Wilhelm, and at night the German cruiser would stand by the merchantman, with a prize crew on board. When the Mont Agel was sighted, the Bellevue was left in charge of the prize crews while the Kronprinz Wilhelm gave chase and finally sank the French ship by ramming.

On December 20, after the Bellevue had been stripped of everything of the least value, all movable parts were securely lashed down that nothing might be left floating to give the British cruisers a clew as to the Wilhelm's whereabouts, and the British merchantman was sunk.

England's Expert Football Players Not Keen for War

LONDON, April 2.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Only 122 professional football players out of some 1,500 in the league teams have enlisted in the football battalion, which was organized for the express purpose of bringing this class of professional athletes to the colors and of breaking up a sport which is supposed to have a bad effect on the recruiting campaign.

The laxity of football professionals and their followers has amounted to almost a public scandal, states Colonel C.
P. Grantham, commanding the battalion.
"I am aware and have proof that in many cases directors and managers of clubs have not only given no assistance in getting their men to join, but have done their best by their actions to prevent it. I will no longer be a party to holding the want of patriotism of these men by allowing the public to think they have joined the football battalion."

To Our Fellow Citizens:

At the last election of an Ordinary for Ful-

POWERFUL ARGUMENT FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE IS MADE BY DR. SHAW

Five Thousand Persons Hear Great Suffrage Leader at Auditorium on "Votes for Women" and World Peace

"If Dr. Anna Howard Shaw could address the assembled armies of Europe, the war would end within a week," was the comment of one man after hearing the powerful appeal for right government, woman suffrage and world peace made by the great suffrage leader to 5,000 people at the auditorium Tuesday night.

For two hours Dr. Shaw held her audience under a spell; they laughed with her when she chose to use sarcasm, they applauded her when she brought arguments to some striking and dramatic climax, and some cried with her when she pictured the death of one of the thousands of men killed on the battlefields of Europe.

Dr. Shaw spoke under the auspices of the three local suffrage organizations of Atlanta; all who heard her agreed that the address was one of the finest arguments for "votes for women" ever advanced in the state of Georgia.

"The reasons given against woman suffrage by its opponents are like the Kilkenny cats," said Dr. Shaw, "they always come in pairs, and they always kill each other."

"Vox populi, vox dei, the voice of the people is the voice of God," said Dr. Shaw. "This truth, put into two languages by American statesmen to better express the great thought, has been used by statesmen since this nation was born as the highest expression of the true meaning of a republic—the voice of the people has always been a sane voice; the real voice of the people should be a direct, with soprano and bass singing together, in harmony that would be really divine."

DR. WHITE'S TRIBUTE.

Dr. Shaw, who is president of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association, was introduced by Dr. John E. White as "the foremost of forward-looking American women," she spoke from the stage of the great auditorium, with a huge American flag above her head. On the blue field of this flag, the black stars represented the states in which woman suffrage does not yet exist; golden stars above them the black ones—these stood for the "free" states.

Beside Dr. Shaw sat many of the women, leaders of the three suffrage organizations here; Dr. W. W. McMillen, president of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage Association, presided. The G. M. A. band furnished music, and the cadets of the school sat in a line to the right of the stage.

Looking at these young men, toward the close of her address, Dr. Shaw made an appeal for the end of war. After picturing the devotion and care poured out by a mother upon the head of her boy from the time he is born until, from his mother, to face the world alone. Dr. Shaw said:

"A young man strong in his manhood, with a clean body and clean mind, is the finest work of God. To his life is mingled the life of his mother; years of her life have gone from her into him.

"A nation calls—in an hour he is marching to the front, soon he is lying dead upon a field filled with others who are also dead. Dead mothers are on that field, too. There never died a man yet that a woman didn't die, too. Yet they ask us, 'What do women know about war?' Why, what do men know about war?"

Dr. Shaw spoke of addressing an open air audience in a Nebraska country town, of a man who sat on a box on the edge of the crowd, "whittling a stick for the good of his country," who called out to another man similarly employed: "Would these women go over and fight the Germans if we let them vote?"

"I turned to him and asked him, 'why should we go over and fight the Germans, sir?'" said Dr. Shaw. "He stopped whittling on his stick for a minute, and said: 'Would you fight if the Germans landed an army in America?'"

"No," I told him, "we'd expect our men to fight the German men. But if an army of German women landed, we'd fight—yes, we'd fight them."

Applause from the women in the audience greeted this.

"Yes, we'd meet their transports as they landed," said Dr. Shaw. "We American women would meet them; we would say to them, 'Let's talk this thing over; we'd take them up to the Metropolitan opera house, and we would talk it over. And there wouldn't be any war.'"

NO REPUBLIC YET.

After stating that the United States had changed its form of government five times, each time thinking it was a republic, Dr. Shaw said this country was not a republic yet, and never would be until republicanism by the divine right of the people was overthrown and half the population of the nation were enfranchised.

She spoke of a woman from New Jersey, an anti-suffragist, who advocated woman's place in the home, who left her home for three months to "follow me around the country."

"Should women sit on juries?" she asked. "There are lots of juries that ought to be sat on. And there are many women who would like to sit on anything. Women who stand all day behind a bargain counter, women who stand all day beside a washbasin, they'd like to sit on juries at $2 a day—they'd really enjoy it."

"And," cried Dr. Shaw, "there is a certain class of men and women artists who would rather face Satan himself than a jury of women. Men and women who are concerned with the corruption of our young boys and girls—old girls, too, in this case—in this every year—their mothers never know where they got these men and women, if brought to court before a jury of mothers, would then, and not until then, receive the punishment that they deserve."

Dr. Shaw advocated women policemen for the prevention of crime, not for sole purpose of "knocking a man over the head and dragging him off to jail," she advocated disarmament as the only means toward lasting peace; she said that "man was not made to stand alone—that all woman now wanted was to take her place at his side and help in the world like she helps him in the home."

Following Dr. Shaw's address, Mrs. Henry Peeples made a short talk while contributions were taken up for "the cause" in Georgia. Then Mrs. Mary L. McMillen addressed the meeting.

Dr. Shaw caught a late train for Savannah, where she speaks Wednesday night.

BOYS OF BATTERY B RUN DOWN A SUSPECT Rehearsal for Entertainment Interrupted by Exciting Chase and Capture

An exciting and successful chase of a negro pursued by a detective and a corps of artillerymen, to the artillery rehearsal for the military pageant.

Sergeant Grover McNeill proved the hero of the occasion, outdistancing the negro suspect just as he was about to climb a fence in the rear of the auditorium.

The chase began on the Washington street viaduct, when a negro was pointed out to Detective R. E. Moon as one who had committed theft earlier in the day. When the detective approached the negro, he was seen to be running.

The boys of Battery B, of the field artillery, were just leaving the auditorium-saloon for the Atlanta theater to hold their rehearsal when the negro and his pursuer appeared. Promptly after their cannon, Sergeant McNeill and several others joined in the chase and, seeing the chance of escape diminishing with the reinforcements, the negro fled into the alley running back of the auditorium from Courtland street. It was here that Sergeant McNeill caught him, in the act of climbing the fence.

At the police station the negro gave his name as Richard Richardson, and he was locked up on the blanket charge of "suspicion."

The artillery boys then continued their trip with the cannon to the Atlanta theater and there went through a thorough practice of the military stunts that will be given in Thursday night's program. "Arizona All," the cowboy visiting in Atlanta who offered to join the program, was present and went through his expert lasso stunts which will be given in the same five scenes in the military part of the program.

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about 10 ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do not tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—(Advt.)

THE WINDOW LOOK IN

It's Mutual

Sounds odd, maybe, but it's the flat truth: you could not more do without us than we could do without you.

Ever thought of that?

We're dependent mutually—Atlanta and this public service of car, light, power, and that dependence is absolute.

Atlanta has grown from village to city with our share of help. We're proud to know that we are with Atlanta's share of help.

True, each has accomplished much apart. For instance, we've never lagged in devising, trying and applying new methods; in working to cut the proportionate cost of better and greater service.

But at no time has either been independent of the other. Improvements and extensions by us have been matched in Atlanta's population-growth and expansive pressure.

We would have to share misfortune. We do share fortune. You pay us many nickels. We pay them back to you through ice, gas, salaries, purchases, taxes, excise, improvements—even through dividends, when there are any. We don't bury a single penny. We couldn't retire one nickel from circulation if we tried.

Further, every dollar we earn means reflex benefit worth many more dollars to the whole community in enhanced property values and increased tax funds.

We win or we lose with you. It's mutual.

HOW TO CURE STOMACH TROUBLES

Excessive acids in the stomach, or hyperacidity, as it is called, is primarily responsible for nearly all cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, flatulence, and other troubles frequently due to stomach ulcers. The successful treatment for prevention as well as cure of such cases depends entirely on neutralizing the excess acid, stopping the food fermentation, and building up the stomach. This is accomplished by the use of the famous "Stomachic" which has recently been found to be the most effective remedy for such troubles. A teaspoonful in a little water immediately after eating stops all acid fermentation, neutralizes the acid, and soothes the inflamed and irritated stomach. It will quickly remove the cause of the trouble and give complete relief.—(Adv.)

A. & W. P. RAILWAY TAX IS FIXED AT $4,432,309

Comptroller General Wright Rejects Return Placed at $3,007,893

Comptroller General William A. Wright has given his written opinion to President Charles A. Wickham, of the Atlanta & West Point railroad, that the tax assessment of the road at $4,432,309 is correct.

Several weeks ago the road made its return at $3,007,893, which was rejected by the comptroller general who insisted that the return must be at least $4,432,309. The railroad company had insisted to raise its figures and notified the comptroller general that it would submit the question of its tax valuation to arbitration.

Upon receipt of this notice General Wright began a careful review of the railroad's franchise and real valuations with the result that the state will ask the arbitration board to fix the assessment at $4,432,309, apportioned $3,406,745 for tangible property and $1,025,564 for franchise value.

This assessment would be an increase over the 1915 returns of the railroad of $1,424,416, and an increase over its 1914 returns of $737,828.

PLAINTIFFS LONG WED SUING FOR SEPARATION

One Man Charges Wife Threw Buttermilk in His Face

Running the gamut of marital woes, eighteen divorce suits and around number were filed in Fulton superior court Tuesday, return day for the May term. Many of the plaintiffs have been married a score of years or longer.

One of the most interesting of a Decatur street pool room, after thirty-seven years of married life, brought suit against his wife, Mrs. N. C. Elliott, alleging she treated him cruelly by assaulting him with a pitcher of buttermilk, hurling the contents in his face. He states she owns a $12,000 home at 53 East Hurst street.

Mr. Elliott, Jr., is the attorney for the plaintiff. Mrs. Elliott, after twenty-three years of married life, sued David M. Plummer for divorce and possession of their thirteen-year-old daughter, Willie Bell, alleging that Plummer had been habitually intoxicated from almost the date of their marriage. She alleged she supported the entire family, including herself, Plummer and two children, by her earnings as a dressmaker for two years.

Mrs. Plummer, married eleven years, sued John M. Dix for divorce and the possession of their two children, Annie Laura, six years old, and John Marion, Jr., two years old. She alleged he deserted her for two years, and that she lived with another woman to whom he referred as "my wife."

William B. Ahlgren is the attorney. Mrs. J. W. Allen, married thirty years, stating that she sued her husband, J. W. Allen, for divorce eight years ago, obtained a first verdict, but withdrew the suit upon his promise to reform, brought suit Tuesday afternoon for alimony and a judgment to prevent her husband from staying at her house against her wishes.

She alleged that she, with her daughter, Mrs. Della M. Bohler, moved from 312 East Park street to 312 East Hunter street, to get rid of Allen, but stated that he followed them to the new home, established himself there, and made the place his headquarters despite protests. T. G. Lewis is the attorney.

ILLINOIS FARMERS WANT TO LOCATE IN GEORGIA

Forty Families Ready to Move If They Can Find Location

According to a letter received by the state agricultural department from A. Goldman, 1361 West Thirtieth street, Chicago, he is in touch with 40 families in the northwest who wish to form a farming colony in Georgia.

Mr. Goldman's letter follows in part: "We are about forty families at present, with prospects of increasing to 100 in the near future, who desire to locate in some suitable territory where we can get out of the northwestern cold and get into the warm climate of the south. We desire some private individual or corporation to loan us money at a fair rate of interest with extended time for paying notes, to enable us to buy material for house and barn building, and buy such farm implements and cattle necessary for business."

"Many of us are practical farmers but work at various trades when in the north. We are a set of willing workers and will make good about opportunity to be given us. Just locate where employment can be secured during the time the land would not occupy our time."

NORTH GEORGIA TO SPEND THOUSANDS ON HIGHWAY

Not Waiting Until Dixie Highway Is Located to Make Improvements

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) DALTON, Ga., April 14.—Thousands of dollars will be spent at once in the work of completing the Johnston-Highway between Atlanta and Dalton, Ga. While people along the route hope it will be made part of the Dixie highway, they have determined not to wait until the Dixie highway is located before building a first-class road.

A long distance telephone message received here today from Dalton county states to the effect that the $10,000 wanted to build Dalton county's part was practically secured, the sum now amounting to more than $9,000. This, with other money, will be used in making a first-class road through Dalton county. Dalton county's work is practically completed; but a hard surface will be put on the well-graded road. Engineers have surveyed the incomplete section of road in this county, and it will be built immediately. The survey passes around the steep hill in the southern part of the county. Everything will be completed, so the locating committee of the highway will have a good road to travel when inspecting this route.

Let's see what they are—

Perhaps the most important part of the corset is the boning—upon it depends the lasting shape, the actual wear of the corset.

We can tell you that the boning in the SUCCESO at $3.50 to $5.00 is the same as that which goes into the superb Madame Irene corset, which sells at $5.00 and upwards. In other words, it is the best that the Madame Irene people, recognized leaders in the corset industry, can procure.

But it is not alone the Successo that we would mention—with it we have The La Vida, The Froloset (front laced) at these prices.

Fully thirty different models in all, allowing our corsetieres to make that discriminating selection that insures the mode that most accurately fits you.

If you prefer a low bust corset—you shall have it to your exact liking. If you prefer a corset of normal bust and slightly raised back—you shall have it. If you prefer a corset that is very long, well and good, or a short corset. The thing we would emphasize is that with all the models we have at $3.50 to $5.00, any woman may be smartly, stylishly, serviceably corseted.

These many models are in coutils, batistes and even in brocades. But we can show you much more clearly than we can tell you what surprising values we have at $3.50 to $5.00.

CASE OF YOUNG WOMAN PUZZLING COURT OFFICIALS

Judges—Undecided What to Do With Mrs. Pylant, Who Violated Probation

Whether to continue the probation sentence of Mrs. Ethel Pylant, a seventeen-year-old girl recently put on probation in connection with the conviction of a bank of youths for jewelry robberies, or to send her to a juvenile training school, is the problem perplexing Recorder Johnson, Judge W. W. Tinsall, of the juvenile court, and Probation Officer S. J. Cogler.

Mrs. Pylant was arraigned before the recorder Tuesday for violation of her probation. She was charged with frequenting places she had been specifically directed not to frequent. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Pylant, pressed with the recorder for an extension of the probation, but as the violation of the probation brings the case before Judge Tinsall, we case had to be referred to him.

BREWERTON'S BOOK GOES TO EARTH'S FAR CORNERS

Journal Cartoonists' "Drawing for Newspapers" Ordered From Over Seas

From three remote corners of the world orders have been received during the past three days by A. W. Brewerton, The Journal cartoonist, for his book, "Drawing for Newspapers".

The first order came from Dublin, Ireland; this was followed by a letter asking that the book be sent to a man in Trinidad, South America, and the next order came in through the mails from a prospective cartoonist in Alaska.

Mr. Brewerton's book, illustrated with cartoons drawn by him and with drawings explained in the points of instruction explained in the text, was published two years ago. Since then the sale of the book has been very wide in the United States. Judging from the recent orders, however, the book will soon be distributed to the four corners of the earth.

U. S. OFFICIALS BEGIN SEARCH FOR WHEATLEY

A hearing which the government thinks may throw light on the whereabouts of George W. Wheatley, Jr., of America, formerly assistant cashier of the American National bank, will be held before a United States commissioner at Macon Thursday morning.

Long distance operatives of the Southern Bell Telephone company will be examined in an effort to learn the contents of long distance messages sent by Wheatley January a year ago on the night of his disappearance. The government thinks he may have disclosed in these messages his destination.

Wheatley, together with M. M. Lowry, the latter cashier, have been indicted for alleged appropriation of the bank's funds. Lowry remained at America but Wheatley disappeared.

POPULAR TRAFFIC "COP" PROMOTED TO SERGEANT

Officer H. P. Burnett Wins Advance by His Splendid Work at Five Points

H. P. Burnett, traffic policeman at Five Points several years and one of the best traffic men on the force, was promoted to the rank of sergeant by the police board Tuesday night to succeed Sergeant J. W. Whitley, who is retiring on a pension.

Officer Burnett is a familiar figure, standing with military exactness in the midst of the traffic maelstrom, his face tanned by the weather, his moustache close cropped, directing the ceaseless crossing lines of vehicles with white-gloved hand.

His work in this position, one of the most difficult on the force, not only has attracted the attention of his superior officers but has been noticed and praised by citizens.
